“We’ve always been innovators. For example, we organized a two-day bus tour of the region for our clients with various Cawley teams embarking and disembarking as we entered each of their submarkets.”

Doug Pauly joined Cawley Chicago in 2014. Prior to becoming a member of our Office Brokerage team, he spent five years in the telecommunications industry working for Cogent Communications, a multinational Internet Service Provider. In this capacity, he worked to develop relationships with over 100 new clients, as well as maintaining relationships with existing clients.

His extensive sales background, along with experience in uncovering new opportunities, listening to and understanding his client’s needs, and finding a creative solution to those requirements fits perfectly with Cawley Chicago’s desire to service our clients in the best way we can.
