

Nicholas Nasharr

Research Analyst

Education and Accreditation

- Bachelor's Degree, Finance with Specialization in Real Estate
The University of Alabama

“Market Research is extremely important in the Real Estate industry to fully understand and navigate the market successfully. I believe this insight into the industry and the market will make me a stronger broker in the future.”

Nicholas is the lead Research Analyst at Cawley Chicago. He graduated in December 2016 from The University of Alabama with a Finance degree and Real Estate specialization.

Nicholas utilizes his degree to accurately provide analytical reports for the company, marketing team and brokers on a consistent basis. He is responsible for conducting, tracking and reporting qualitative and quantitative quarterly market data, statistics and trends within the Chicagoland commercial real estate market.

Nicholas is working to become be an aspiring Industrial Commercial Real Estate Broker through his experience as Research Analyst.
